spyder

Personality and attitude. As its name suggests, the Pentagon Industry office table has an industrial feel, where the rawness of the steel commands attention. The contrast of the dark grey tabletop, visible welding seams, and the clear, matte lacquer further contributes to the rustic feeling, while the tapered legs give the table a neat and elegant look. A height-adjustable table that means business, while promoting focused creativity.

wagon

Timeless minimalism combined with a large dose of playfulness makes Wagon Table immediately stand out in a large space

The oval, white-pigmented tabletop in ash has a soft design language, juxtaposed with the square metal legs in white or black. Wheels in the same material as the tabletop make it easy to move the table around, while at the same time further enhancing the soft, welcoming feeling. A table you long to return to.
